this book provides program directors and managers in all areas of higher education administration with the information they need to participate knowledgeably in budgeting allocating and managing money for their programs and services one of the main aims of management accounting is to provide managers with accurate information in order to provide a good basis for decision making there is evidence that the information provided by management accounting systems may be distorted and the occurrence of biases in accounting information is widely accepted among users of MAS. At the same time the intensity and the frequency of use of MAS increase too consequently the quality of the provided information is critical. The focus of this simulation study is twofold on the one hand the impact of the sophistication of traditional costing systems on error propagation in the case of a set of input biases is investigated on the other hand the impact of single and multiple input biases on the quality of the information provided by traditional costing systems is focused in order to investigate the research questions a simulation approach is applied.
